

PrimeEssays.com

Custom writing service since 1998

Admission Essay

Name

Institution

University of Toronto Admission Essay

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

I am interested in gaining skills and practicing in the field of clinical counselling. My goals are to achieve considerable success in shaping the future of students whose lives are on the verge of deterioration. I intend to influence society to appreciate the role of clinical counselling in their students' lives. However, I intend to diligently fulfill all the requirements before I can begin to work in the state as a counselor. I am ready, willing and able to overcome all the challenges that may come my way in pursuit of the licensure and therefore will put sufficient effort into my studies.

MY RATIONALE FOR SEEKING SPECIALIZATION IN CLINICAL COUNSELLING RELATED PROGRAM

School counselling services are vital in schools to deal with students who have acute counselling needs. Such needs may include; substance abuse, child abuse, pregnancy, depression, and school violence. The roles of a licensed counselor may entail addressing issues that require good listening skills that help in interpreting and giving fruitful feedback that can have a lasting impact on the lives of the affected students. I intend to work hard and pursue programs as legal counselling to dedicate my services to the counselling work and to address all the legal issues pertaining to school counselling and ethical issues in the field. I understand that clinical supervision has been neglected in school counselling, yet it is important in shaping students, lives. I intend to passionately appreciate the roles of clinical counselling and show the society that clinical and mental health of students is important in their lives.

HOW MY LIFE EXPERIENCES WILL SHAPE MY CAREER AS A CLINICAL COUNSELOR

Currently, I work as a Volleyball Head Coach at Arkansas Christian Academy. I interact with people of different characters; persons with disabilities, persons with differing strengths, and those with different weaknesses. The interactions have prompted my urge to pursue further studies to utilize my skills and abilities in ways that will benefit society. My passion has been gradually cultivated and enhanced by my desires for a better life for all. As a coach, I have worked with kids from various cultures whose understanding is difficult, and those whose understanding is swift. As I engage and listen to the volleyball players, my listening skills have remarkably developed. In addition, I have handled a number of clinical cases in my coaching career, in which I have succeeded in helping the players to regain their confidence. More interesting is the fact that most times, I work with players who desire to quit the game due to a number of discouragements. I have however used my counselling skills to influence them otherwise.

WHY I AM SEEKING ADMISSION AT YOUR INSTITUTION

Given the general perception of no end to learning and research, I have the burning desire to continue researching and exploring the sub-fields of clinical counselling. With the support of my professional advisors and supervisors, I intend to study further on clinical counselling. I am aware that the study at the graduate level is more challenging. To cope with the anticipated challenges, I plan to work hard to achieve accuracy in my assignments, pay attention to the details of my research, and be in constant communication with my instructors and advisors. I take all this as an essential part of graduate learning.

In all my plans the University of Toronto is always my first choice. Admittedly, the department of psychology and counselling at the university will to a greater extent influence my career. With many years of history, I believe the university is the right choice for my studies. I know that the university admits and trains students with strong intellects, professionalism and proper educational backgrounds. As I had explained earlier, I have the relevant educational background and experience to pursue a counselling course at your institution. I am certain that the university suits my personal goals and objectives, the reason why it is my first choice and institution of preference.